

CLAIMS

What is claimed is:

1. A table comprising:
a plastic table top comprising:
a top surface,
a bottom surface,
a pair of spaced apart L-shaped brackets extending outwardly from the bottom surface thereof, the brackets and bottom surface at least partially defining a chamber; a drawer configured to be slidably disposed in the chamber; and a pair of legs connected to the table top.
2. The table as recited in claim 1, wherein the L-shaped brackets are formed integrally with the plastic table top.
3. The table as recited in claim 1, wherein each L-shaped bracket comprises a vertical portion and a horizontal portion formed integrally together.
4. The table as recited in claim 1, wherein each L-shaped bracket comprises a vertical portion and a discrete horizontal portion attached together.

5. The table as recited in claim 4, wherein the horizontal portion is formed by an L-shaped angle iron having a vertical portion and a horizontal portion, the vertical portion of the iron being connected to the vertical portion of the L-shaped bracket such that the horizontal portion of the L-shaped iron is disposed transversely thereto.

6. The table as recited in claim 1, further comprising an L-shaped angle iron disposed in a corner of each L-shaped bracket.

7. The table as recited in claim 1, further comprising a lip formed around at least a portion of the outer periphery of the bottom surface of the table top.

8. The table as recited in claim 7, further comprising a notch formed in the lip at the location of the L-shaped brackets, the space between the L-shaped brackets being substantially the same or less than the length of the notch.

9. The table as recited in claim 7, further comprising:

a recess formed around the periphery of the bottom surface of the table top such that the bottom surface is substantially level with the bottom portion of the outer lip; and a cross bar attached to an end of each of the table legs, wherein the cross bar is disposed in the recess and pivotally attached to the table top.
